Unique Desk With Modular Cabinets

Hans J. Wegner for Johannes Hansen

Denmark, 1947

An early Wegner design prototype made for the Cabinet Maker's Guild Exhibition in 1947.

This storage ensemble is the earliest modular furniture design Wegner conceived. It consists of a desk, a four drawer cabinet and a two door cabinet. The pieces are all made from solid oak with rosewood tipped feet and plinth bases. There are two additional solid pine wall mount cabinets with sliding glass doors.
